

Ω-Zyme™ ULTRA FAQ's

Q: What is the difference between Ω-Zyme™ ULTRA and Ω-Zyme™ ?

A: Ω-Zyme™ ULTRA is the ultimate digestive enzyme formula, supporting more complete digestion of food for gastrointestinal health, regularity, and normal bowel function.† The higher enzyme activity comes from a superior, redesigned enzyme blend featuring a broad spectrum of 21 digestive enzymes specifically selected to digest the full range of proteins, fats and carbohydrates found in a typical meal, and optimized for activity across the full range of pH (acid/alkaline) throughout the digestive process. Ω-Zyme ULTRA comes in UltraZorbe™ capsules and is packaged utilizing the BioProtect™ Packaging System

Q: What is the additional enzyme?

A: The ULTRA blend has been reengineered for higher potency and broader activity with the addition of a specific protease for digesting dairy based proteins.

Q: What is the enzyme “relay race?”

A: Ω-Zyme ULTRA contains a unique blend of digestive enzymes whose activity is optimized across the varying pH (acid/alkaline) levels throughout the gastrointestinal tract. This enzyme “relay race” enables the enzymes to survive the high acidity levels in the stomach and be delivered to the small intestine and colon in their intact and biologically active form for maximum digestive benefit.

Q: What are UltraZorbe™ capsules and are they vegetarian?

A: UltraZorbe capsules are 100% vegetarian. They are free of all chemical solvents, animal by-products and colorants found in other delivery forms. UltraZorbe capsules provide rapid nutrient release through faster and more complete dissolution than other vegetarian capsules.

Q: What is the BioProtect™ Packaging System?

A: The BioProtect Packaging System features the most sophisticated packaging system available to preserve the integrity and effectiveness of the formulation: a glass bottle to provide superior moisture and oxygen protection, an oxygen absorber to bind free oxygen, a desiccant to absorb moisture and reduce nutrient degradation, and a double safety seal to protect the product from tampering and to preserve freshness.

Q: Who should use Ω-Zyme™ ULTRA?

A: Anyone who consumes a diet that does not contain enough raw foods can benefit from enzyme supplementation with every meal. Enzymes are living catalysts and the key to good digestion. Present in all whole live foods but destroyed by cooking and processing, digestive enzymes break down foods into nutrients that the body can then readily absorb and utilize. Ω-Zyme ULTRA can be used by anyone who needs or wants digestive enzyme supplementation, or desires normal, healthy digestion.
