

Love Me
Baby Me

'LOVE ME BABY ME' FEATURED ON MONTEL WILLIAMS!

Los Angeles, CA (March, 2008) -- Love Me Baby Me was featured on The Montel Show on Wednesday, March 5 on the Living Well: Parenting 101 special. Montel showed that the company's organic and luxurious Creamy Cream isn't just for babies when he tested it himself!

Los Angeles-based Silver Spoon co-owners Melissa Lemer and Lorena Bendinskas, the "pioneering queens of celebrity gift baskets," featured Love Me Baby Me in their segment, which showcased "some of the best baby shower and kids trends." Silver Spoon is known for keeping track of the top-of-the-line children's products, and Love Me Baby Me has been their favorite for quite sometime. They also mentioned on air that "celebrities love this stuff" too!

The studio audience was gifted Love Me Baby Me's Gift Set Collection, which included full-sized bottles of their entire line. These great-smelling, natural and organic, "perfect" products, retails for a value of over $100. Love Me Baby Me is also Paraben-free, Phthalates-free, SLS-free and mineral-oil/nut oil-free. It's also Vegan-friendly, absent of oats, soy and gluten.

About Love Me Baby Me

Rosemary Anthony, creator of the Love Me Baby Me product line, developed the natural and organic baby products after learning her newborn daughter suffered from sensitive skin issues, which made it impossible for her to use conventional skin care lines. After leaving the corporate world, Anthony then began a five-year quest to create a gentle line of products that would pamper her daughter's delicate skin. Anthony discovered an all-natural preservative derived from exotic flowers, resulting in a natural and organic product that rivaled the others using synthetic preservatives found in mainstream products. Thus, the Love Me Baby Me product line was born!